AMENDED MOTION OF GIANTS STADIUM LLC FOR LEAVE TO CONDUCT DISCOVERY OF THE DEBTORS
 PURSUANT TO FEDERAL RULE OF BANKRUPTCY PROCEDURE 2004

Giants Stadium LLC (“Giants Stadium”) hereby moves this Court for an order pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 2004 directing that Lehman Brothers Holdings Inc. (“LBHI”) and Lehman Brothers Special Financing Inc. (“LBSF”) (jointly, the “Debtors”) and Lehman Brothers, Inc. (“LBI”) respond to the document requests contained in Schedule 1 attached hereto, and provide for examination of the Debtors’ representative who is most knowledgeable about the matters set forth herein (the “Amended Motion”).

INTRODUCTION

1. Debtors have been hiding behind Rule 2004 for more than three and a half years in order to avoid directly addressing Giants Stadium's Claims. In that time, Debtors have demanded and received extensive discovery from Giants Stadium, including nearly 64,000 pages of documents and the deposition of Giants Stadium's authorized representative. Throughout this entire time, Debtors have avoided producing a single document or deponent themselves.

2. It is clear that Debtors will object to Giants Stadium's Claims and possibly seek a receivable to the Estate. And it is clear that Debtors' even more recent Rule 2004 discovery has been directed at bolstering this planned objection with new arguments, rather than resolving any outstanding indecision regarding the Claims.

3. Debtors served their most recent Rule 2004 subpoena against Giants Stadium in April of this year, more than three years after GSLLC's Claims were filed. Giants Stadium has objected to the subpoena on the grounds that it is an abuse of the Debtors' Rule 2004 subpoena powers, brought solely to annoy, harass, and oppress Giants Stadium. The continued resort to Rule 2004 discovery—this is the third subpoena issued against Giants Stadium—is only possible because Debtors have delayed filing their objection to the Claims. The resulting discovery imbalance, where GSLLC has produced almost 64,000 pages and Debtors have produced none, is the primary reason for such delay.

4. In this situation, Debtors cannot continue to use the Rule 2004 process to hamstring Giants Stadium's ability to pursue its Claims: Debtors should either (i) object to the Claims and allow Giants Stadium to take discovery under the adversary proceeding process or (ii) consent to provide Giants Stadium with discovery under the Rule 2004 process. Without reciprocal discovery, it is unlikely that any progress can be made toward resolution of the Claims, whether inside or outside of court.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

5. In mid-2007—just prior to the dislocations of the capital markets—Giants Stadium financed its portion of the New Meadowlands Stadium (“Stadium”) by issuing over $700 million in auction-rate bonds (“Bonds”). As a family-owned entity with a highly risk-averse nature, Giants Stadium sought to reduce its risk on the Bonds. LBSF proposed an attractive solution: an actual bond-rate swap, under which Giants Stadium would pay LBSF a fixed-rate of 6.1885%, and LBSF would pay to Giants Stadium the actual rate on the Bonds, as determined at each auction. Giants Stadium and LBSF consummated this proposal on July 27, 2007 by entering into two Actual Rate Swaps as described in two ISDA Master Agreements (the “ISDA Masters”).

6. On September 15, 2008 (the “Petition Date”), LBHI filed a voluntary petition for relief under chapter 11 of title 11 of the United States Code (the “Bankruptcy Code”). LBHI’s bankruptcy filing was an Event of Default under the ISDA Masters. On September 18, 2008, Giants Stadium sent two letters to LBSF (collectively, the “Termination Letters”) (i) notifying LBSF that an Event of Default pursuant to Section 5(a)(vii) of the ISDA Masters had occurred; and (ii) designating September 18, 2008, as the Early Termination Date with respect to the Actual Rate Swaps.

7. Giants Stadium then determined its loss due to the terminations, and then filed the Claims.¹

8. On May 19, 2010, Debtors served Giants Stadium with a subpoena requesting 25 categories of documents loosely relating to the Claims. Giants Stadium ultimately produced to Debtors nearly 64,000 pages of documents and Debtors completed a seven-hour deposition of Giants Stadium's authorized representative, Christine Procops. On April 6, 2011, Giants Stadium reached out to Debtors to initiate reciprocal discovery. McCombs Decl. ¶ 2. At that time Debtors advised Giants Stadium that its request was unnecessary because the Debtors were "still engaged in [their] investigative process." Id. ¶ 3.

9. On April 14, 2011, Giants Stadium filed the Motion of Giants Stadium LLC for Leave to Conduct Discovery of Debtors Pursuant to Rule 2004, [Dkt. No. 16016], which Debtors opposed.

10. Despite their refusal to provide Giants Stadium with any discovery, and despite the extensive, one-way discovery provided by Giants Stadium to them, Debtors sought to compound the imbalance by seeking an order from this Court to compel Giants Stadium to turn over a handful of documents that Giants Stadium had withheld or redacted under the attorney-client privilege.

11. On September 7, 2011, in its Opposition to Debtors' Motion to Compel Production of Documents "Improperly" Withheld as Privileged, Giants Stadium asked this Court to encourage Debtors to engage on the merits of the Claims with Giants Stadium, rather than delay their resolution any further. At oral argument, this Court urged the parties to do just that, after which Debtors finally consented to begin substantive discussion of the merits of the Claims and to begin a voluntary mediation process. In an effort to demonstrate good faith, Giants Stadium agreed to allow Debtors' counsel to view the documents at issue in the motion to compel, on the condition that privilege would not thereby be waived.

12. Substantive discussions have been ongoing for several months, both inside and outside the formal mediation process, but the parties have been unable as yet to settle this matter.

13. On February 14, 2012, the parties held a mediation. The mediator released the parties at the end of the day because no resolution seemed possible. Over the course of June through mid-September 2012, the parties attempted to negotiate a settlement outside of mediation; that process too has failed.

14. To date, Debtors have not produced a single document or deponent to Giants Stadium, and have failed to formally object to the Claims. As Giants Stadium is unable to force Debtors to object to the Claims and open up discovery during an adversary proceeding, Giants Stadium seeks Rule 2004 discovery.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

15. The Court has jurisdiction to consider this Amended Motion pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 157 and 1334. This matter is a core proceeding pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1408 and 1409. The statutory predicate for the relief requested in this Amended Motion is Rule 2004 of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure.

RELIEF REQUESTED

16. Giants Stadium requests the entry of an order pursuant to Rule 2004 authorizing and directing (i) the production of documents by the Debtors in response to the document requests attached hereto as Schedule 1; (ii) the deposition of a representative of the Debtors who is most knowledgeable about the subject matters set forth in this Motion; (iii) the issuance of one or more subpoenas compelling such document production and attendance at such deposition in the manner provided in Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 9016; and (iv) such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper. In the alternative, Giants Stadium requests the Court to order Debtors to cease their Rule 2004 discovery attempts against Giants Stadium and third-parties and simply state their objections to the Claims. That way, reciprocal discovery can proceed.

ARGUMENT

17. Thus far, Debtors are the only ones who have had any access to discovery. Debtors have abused this advantage, using Rule 2004 discovery to develop and hone their arguments for an objection rather than investigating any genuine question. The discovery Giants Stadium seeks will serve to correct this imbalance, and assist the parties to clarify and narrow the issues on which there is disagreement, in order to properly resolve the Claims.

18. Rule 2004 provides that “[o]n motion of any party in interest, the court may order the examination of any entity.” Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2004(a). The scope of discovery under Rule 2004 relates to “the acts, conduct, or property or to the liabilities and financial condition of the debtor, or to any matter which may affect the administration of the debtor’s estate, or to the debtor’s right to a discharge.” Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2004(b). Under Rule 2004, a moving party is entitled to both the examination of a witness and the production of requested documents. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 2004(c).

19. Under Rule 2004, “good cause” for an examination is shown “if the examination is necessary to establish the claim of the party seeking the examination, or if denial of such request would cause the examiner undue hardship or injustice.” In re Metiom, Inc., 318 B.R. 263, 268 (S.D.N.Y. 2004); In re Drexel Burnham Lambert Group, Inc., 123 B.R. 702, 712 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y. 1991) (finding creditor had good cause to participate in debtors’ Rule 2004 discovery process and noting that “It is not the debtors’ ... function to prevent discovery of a claim, but rather one of their functions as fiduciaries is to see that substantial justice is provided to all estate claimants.”).

20. Giants Stadium has good cause for seeking discovery under Rule 2004. Absent action by the Debtors, Giants Stadium’s claims continue to represent prima facie allowable claims. Because Debtors have unreasonably delayed objecting to or otherwise resolving the claims, and the information sought therefore cannot be obtained via the normal discovery process, Rule 2004 discovery is the only procedural recourse currently available to Giants Stadium. The delineation between Rule 2004 and a contested matter or an adversary proceeding is critical—once a contested matter or an adversary proceeding is commenced, Giants Stadium would have access to discovery under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

21. It has been more than a year since Giants Stadium reached out to Debtors to initiate reciprocal discovery, at which time Debtors stated that discovery was “unnecessary and premature” because they are still determining whether to agree to the Claims. McCombs Decl. ¶ 3. It is now clear that Debtors have determined to object to Giants Stadium’s Claims, and so Giants Stadium should be allowed to take discovery, as Debtors promised. Id.

22. As to the scope of discovery that Giants Stadium currently seeks, as Debtors themselves point out to Giants Stadium, McCombs Decl. ¶ 4, Rule 2004 “allows considerable leeway for all manner of so-called fishing expeditions provided that there is a reasonable nexus to the debtor and the administration of the debtor's case." In re Hilsen, 2008 WL 2945996, at *1 (Bankr. S.D.N.Y., July 25, 2008). Nonetheless, Giants Stadium, unlike debtors, is not interested in conducting a "fishing expedition." Rather, Giants Stadium seeks narrowly tailored discovery addressing only those issues on which the parties have stated their disagreement during the course of negotiations or the mediation. Giants Stadium's requests are not overly burdensome, costly or disruptive requests.

23. In particular, Giants Stadium seeks discovery relating to the negotiation, drafting, and execution of the contracts. This discovery is targeted at certain provisions of the contracts that Debtors have cited in support of their contentions that their default on the swaps resulted in a receivable to the estate. Without reciprocal discovery on these points, the parties seem unlikely to come to agreement. Relatedly, the conduct of Debtors' affiliate, Lehman Brothers Inc., as broker-dealer, including its decision to hold the Bonds on its books and to resign on September 19, 2008, are pivotal to the parties' current disagreements regarding the contracts and the value of the Claims. Giants Stadium is clearly entitled to discovery on these topics.

24. Additionally, because Debtors refuse to concede several basic preliminary factual issues, Giants Stadium is forced to seek discovery relating to those matters. First, Giants Stadium presented Debtors with ample evidence of swap termination on September 18, 2008. However, perhaps because this termination is inconsistent with Debtors' "receivables" theory, Debtors continue to press the argument that the swaps were not properly terminated. Giants Stadium must therefore inquire into Debtors' receipt of the termination notices and actual knowledge of the termination. Debtors have already taken discovery on this issue against Giants Stadium, but have not provided any information on this issue to Giants Stadium. Similarly, because Debtors refuse to concede that Giants Stadium fulfilled its Market Quotation obligations, Giants Stadium seeks discovery on this topic. Debtors have not provided Giants Stadium with information regarding any efforts LBSF may in fact have undertaken in an attempt to fulfill its obligations under the contracts. To the extent that Debtors have additional information on these topics within their custody and control, Giants Stadium is entitled to that information.

25. Finally, to the extent that Debtors also have information regarding their own assessments of the value of the Auction Rate Swaps and the reasonableness of Giants Stadium's calculations, Giants Stadium is entitled to that information as well. The Parties are unlikely to come to agreement on the good-faith, reasonable basis upon which Giants Stadium valued its Claims without full disclosure of how Debtors themselves have approached this most central of topics.

26. The equities favor Giants Stadium's requested relief and, pursuant to Rule 2004, Giants Stadium requests that the Court enter an order granting Giants Stadium leave to take discovery of the Debtors concerning the matters described herein and in the attached request.

NO PRIOR REQUEST

27. This Amended Motion fully amends and replaces the Motion of Giants Stadium LLC for Leave to Conduct Discovery of the Debtors Pursuant to Federal Rule of Bankruptcy Procedure 2004, as originally filed on April 14, 2011 and not yet adjudicated.

No prior Motion for the relief requested herein has been made to this or any other court.

WAIVER OF MEMORANDUM OF LAW

28. As there are no novel issues of law relating to the Amended Motion, Giants Stadium requests that the Court waive the requirement that Giants Stadium file a separate memorandum of law in support of the Amended Motion.

CONCLUSION

29. By this Amended Motion, Giants Stadium is seeking information from the Debtors relating to matters central to resolution of the Claims.

30. The information sought thus relates to the property, liabilities, financial condition, and administration of the Debtors' estate, and this request is therefore well within the scope of Rule 2004.

WHEREFORE, for the reasons stated herein, Giants Stadium respectfully requests that the Court enter an Order, pursuant to Rule 2004, in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A: (i) requiring the production of documents from the Debtors responsive to the document requests; (ii) requiring the Debtors to produce their representative for examination who is most knowledgeable about the subject matters set forth in this Motion; (iii) authorizing the issuance of one or more subpoenas compelling such document production and appearance for examination; and (iv) granting such other and further relief as the Court deems just and proper.
